Bachelor of Engineering in Information Technology

About Me

My objective is to provide a responsible job in a position where I can implement what I have learned and studies, as well as developing my knowledge and gain further experience. I'm currently looking for a challenging position where I can expand my knowledge and skill set. Also, I am always motivated, but also disciplined, and I try to constantly improve myself in order to achieve much more in this field and I truly love researching new technologies and I'm always on the lookout for new opportunities to develop and grow within my role. At the end of the day, success is only there if you love what you do, and I really love it.
